

"A CHURCH FOR ALL"

CHELSEA NEWSLETTER

10 June 2012

A word from Steve...

In my work at Family Life I often find it a privilege to work with kids who have such courage and commitment to face issues.

Kids who have seen violence and are traumatised become calm, kids who are acting out risky behaviour guide their parents about the boundaries they need.

Deep down we tend to know what we really need as compared to what we want. We also often have a sense of Jesus leading us towards our real needs.

The only trouble is as adults we tend to find it a bit harder to let go and trust Jesus, yet that is the journey we are called on, is it not?

Asylum Seeker Employment Opportunities

Presently there are a large number of asylum seekers being released from detention centres around Australia into the community.

At Urban Neighbours of Hope, we are regularly in contact with people in this situation. Right now the Church in Australia has a great opportunity to respond to the most vulnerable in our midst. One of the greatest needs for this group of people is employment - they have work rights, and a great willingness to work. However, work is extremely difficult to find.

Do you know an employer? Would they be willing to employ an asylum seeker, many of whom have skills ready to be used. If so, or if you'd like to find out more, please contact Brad Coath - email:

brad@unoh.org or ph: 0402 948 506.
